

What exactly is heaven? Well, of course we all know that when our lives end that being believers of our savior Jesus Christ, we will go to the kingdom of heaven and it will be greater and more wonderful than anything we can comprehend.

Here on good old planet earth, we tend to humanize what we feel heaven is. Case in point...I spent the last part of the week living outdoors off the grid in one of the most beautiful places I can imagine within an hour or so from home. It was heaven on earth. For some people, heaven can describe really good food or the pleasant smell of flowers.

Though we may not know exactly what all heaven holds for us, we all give a flattering description of what God has for us there by comparing it to God's awesome creations here. While we have our problems in this world, it's refreshing to know that we can escape them from time to time by taking shelter in a small glimpse of what God has for us after we leave here. What's your little piece of heaven here on earth?

Revelation 21:4

He will wipe every tear from their eyes.

There will be no more death or mourning or crying or pain, for the old order of things has passed away.
